Tutoring Experience

Over the past eight years, I've guided students through the complexities of IB Extended Essays, helping them refine their research, structure, and arguments across subjects ranging from History to English Literature. My students have achieved top grades with well-crafted and insightful essays.

Additionally, I've supported students with A-Level and IGCSE coursework, particularly in History and Global Perspectives. I focus on developing critical analysis and effective writing skills to ensure success in both internal and external assessments. Collaborating with students worldwide, I help them navigate academic challenges and achieve their goals.
