Tutoring Experience

For the past 15 years, I have worked as an English tutor across international schools and private institutions, specialising in IB English Language and Literature. My teaching journey has seen students excel in their coursework, Extended Essays, and final exams, with many achieving top scores.

During my tenure at leading schools in the UK, I taught A-Level and IGCSE English, helping students develop critical thinking and analytical writing skills. My experience includes guiding students through complex literary texts, ensuring they can confidently interpret and discuss themes, techniques, and historical contexts.

Beyond classroom teaching, I have worked one-on-one with students preparing for AP English Literature and SAT Verbal, equipping them with the skills needed to succeed in competitive academic environments. My dedication to nurturing a love for English has helped students gain admission to top universities worldwide.
