Tutoring Experience

I've spent the past 11 years working with students worldwide, particularly those preparing for IB Maths and AP Calculus. My expertise includes guiding students through challenging topics such as calculus, algebra, and probability while ensuring they are well-prepared for their exams and coursework.

Additionally, I've collaborated with international schools in Japan and beyond, delivering tailored lessons for A-Level and IGCSE Mathematics students. My approach focuses on strengthening problem-solving skills, which has helped my students consistently achieve top grades and gain admission to prestigious universities.
